Rules:

The general rules are the same as in HotAC.

Scoring XP:

When players hit an AI ship they score 1xp.

If applicable add on to that 1xp one of the following:

+1xp if you destroy a generic Z95

+2xp if you destroy any other generic small ship.

+2xp for destroying an elite or large base ship.

Then, if applicable, add on one of the following:

+1xp for all players when a non elite small ship is destroyed.

+2xp for all players when an elite or large base ship is destroyed.

XP is also scored for the following:

+1xp for an assist. (This is where you assign your action to a friendly ship at R1 and that action is used to either prevent a damage or cause one to an AI).

+1xp into the group pool each time an AI flees from the board.

At the end of the game assign the group xp to players as agreed by the group.

Player Ships:

Players start at PS1 with a Tie Fighter and 3xp and 1 modification slot. As players progress through the campaign they will be sent on different assignments and be given different ships to accomplish those missions. Players do not need to pay for ships as these will be assigned but all upgrades and elite talents are paid for as in HotAC. (Some Missions may assign a specific upgrade for that Mission only, this does not need to be purchased). These upgrades are then recorded on your Master Sheet and can be equipped as desired for each mission.

Missions 17-20

Tie Defender

Where there are multiple mission arcs available for a set of missions players should randomly select which one they are assigned.

The Tie Advanced and the Tie Defender are the only Ties that players use that have Hyperdrives, this means that other ships can only flee from the board using instructions in the selected mission.

It should be noted that as the Imperials the players will always have initiative.

Your Pilot:

Each player has a Pilot Master Sheet shown to the right. On this card each player records all purchases of Equipment and Talents. The Talents are fixed based on Pilot Skill, these are automatically transferred to each ship that you fly.

The Equipment is used as a store that each player gradually fills with purchases of the equipment using XP. The equipment can then be selected from and equipped to each ship that you use in each mission. This will enable tailoring of craft to suit each mission that you are assigned.

Once you have played a mission, transfer any data such as XP and ships destroyed back to the Master Sheet.

For some Missions you may be assigned a specific set of equipment, these are not transferred on to your Master Sheet, to be able to use these on other Missions you would need to purchase them as with other upgrades.

Getting Shot Down:

When a player is shot down you roll the following red dice:

Friendly Territory	1 Die
Neutral Territory	2 Dice
Hostile Territory	3 Dice

Using The chart to the right determine what penalties you suffer.

The results accumulate, so if you roll 👁✷✷ you would lose your 2 most expensive upgrades and lose half the XP scored on that mission.
Or if you roll ccc you would lose 1 PS and your 2 most expensive Elite talents.

Player Elite Talents:

All named Elite Talents in the tables over the next few pages are unique and may only be used by 1 player on a mission at any given time.

Title Cards:

Some ships have a Title Upgrade slot, these are free and where more than 1 Title is available for a ship you may select which one to use. Title Upgrades can not be transferred onto other types of ship.

Special note for Tie Advanced:

The Title card only adds the system slot and does not reduce the cost of the upgrades.

Defenders of the Empire

V1.7

First Assignment

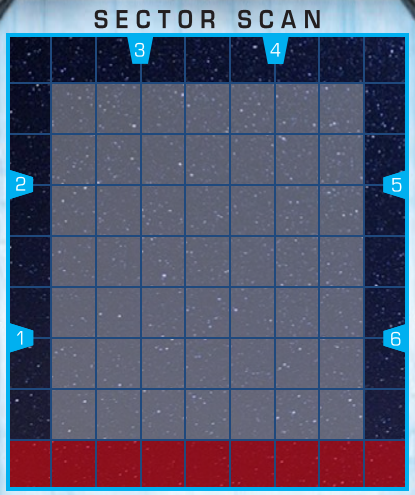

Mission 1

Patrol Duty

Mission Briefing:

There has been Rebel activity in the sector so we have increase patrols to locate the Rebel ships. Our intelligence reports indicate that some Rebel ace has been brought in to stir things up in the sector. The asteroid fields have been used as ambush points by the Rebels on our convoys as they jump out of hyperspace.

Engage any Rebels you encounter and hold them at bay long enough for a heavily armed squadron to arrive and crush the Rebel forces.

Friendly Territory—10 Turns
Red Zone—Player Setup
Grey Zone—12 random asteroids R1> apart

PRIMARY	At least 50% of the player ships (rounded up) must survive until the end of round 10.
BONUS	If no players are shot down, all players gain 2xp. If the Rebel Elite flees or is destroyed before the end of round 10 all players gain 2xp. Successful completion of this mission results in all players rising to Pilot Skill 2.

The rebels are causing havoc with our supply runs and making allies in the sector.

Excellent work. This should shake them from our supply ships and make the shipping lanes safer.

First Assignment

Mission 1

Patrol Duty

Player Victory & Fleeing:

Half the player ships must be on the board at the end of round 10 when the Empire's attack squadron sweeps in to finish of the Rebels.

If players wish to flee they may escape from edge A but they still count as a ship lost when determining victory.

Mission 2

Data Retrieval

Mission Briefing:

We have been using satellites to collect intel in a nearby system, to prevent the satellites from being detected they were set to receive only so we need to collect them. Rebel activity has been detected nearby and we need the intel to see what they are up to.

Escort a shuttle and collect the satellites. Make sure the shuttle gets back safely.

Friendly Territory—12 Turns
Red Zone—Player Setup
Grey Zone—6 random asteroids R1> apart
Green Star—Satellite

PRIMARY	Collect all satellites and the shuttle must escape.
BONUS	If no players are shot down, all players gain 3xp.

The rebels have a strong hold in the sector and we know nothing about their forces or plans.

This information will prove invaluable in a strike on the sector, well done.

First Assignment

Mission 2

Data Retrieval

Lambda Shuttle:

Omicron Pilot, Tractor Beam.

The players control the flight of the shuttle and may fire the primary weapon at AI ships.
However, if the shuttle is able to fire at a satellite with the tractor beam it will do so.

Collecting Satellites:

Fire the Tractor Beam, at R1 you require 1 hit to collect it, at R2 you require 2 hits and at R3 you require 3 hits. Critical rolls count as hits.

The shuttle must flee the board after collecting all 4 satellites by leaving on the player edge or jumping to hyperspace.

AI Attacking:

The X Wing squadrons focus on the shuttle and will only shoot players if they are not able to fire upon the shuttle.

The Z95 squadron will target players but they will fire upon the shuttle if they are not able to fire upon a player.

Player Victory:

This is achieved when the shuttle escapes, however players should keep playing until they have left the board, the 10 turns are complete or all AI have fled, whichever is first.

Mission 3

Rebel Operative Ambush

Mission Briefing:

The Rebels have had a spy operating in the region and is now trying to escape with intel on our operations here. We believe they are using the cover of a nearby asteroid belt to make his escape. The asteroid belt emits interference with the hyperspace engines and communications. This will prevent the Rebels from jumping to hyperspace until they clear the belt.

Intercept the HWK-290 and destroy it, you will then need to clear the belt and report back to base for any needed assistance.

Friendly Territory—10 Turns
Red Zone—Player Setup
Grey Zone—6 random asteroids R1> apart
Green Arrow—HWK-290 start
Yellow Arrow—HKW-290 escape

PRIMARY	Destroy the HWK-290 and at least 1 player ship must escape by fleeing the board on their starting edge.
BONUS	If no players are shot down, all players gain 2xp. If all rebel ships are destroyed or flee all players gain 2xp.

The intel the have escaped with could prove critical to our hold on the sector.

Well done, we have kept this sector secure from the Rebel scum.

First Assignment

Mission 3

Rebel operative Ambush

Player Victory:

The HWK-290 must be destroyed and at least 1 player ship must escape the board by the end of round 10.

AI Ships:

The AI are not able to flee by jumping to hyperspace so will flee to the nearest edge at fastest speed, they will be able to fire on ships while doing so.

The HWK-290 is a Rebel Operative PS2 and gains 2 shields for each difficulty band. The HWK-290 will roll for manoeuvre treating the Yellow arrows as its target, when within range 2 fly at fastest speed to that corner.

Red Alert

Mission Briefing:

Alert, alert, all pilots to their ships, the station is under attack.

We must protect the fuel supplies at all costs.

Fight off the Rebel attack fleet until reinforcements can arrive.

Friendly Territory—12 Turns
Red Zone—Station for 2 Players, add station sections and emplacements according to number of players.
1st 2 players start R1 of Red Zone, subsequent players start in docking bay according to number.

PRIMARY	Make sure at least half the fuel pods (rounded up) last until the end of round 12.
BONUS	If the Shuttle is not destroyed all players gain 1xp. If no Fuel pods are destroyed all players gain 4xp. If no players are destroyed all players gain 2xp.

We have lost the station and the sector, being so far out there is no way to support a fleet without the fuel supplies.

Excellent work, it was a hard fight but we have secured the fuel supplies and been given the go ahead to expand operations in the sector.

First Assignment

Mission 4

Red Alert

AI Ships:

The ships with AI Station settings will target shield generators first then fuel pods then turbo laser turrets. These will only fire upon player ships if no emplacement can be fired upon. They will only use ordinance on shield generators and fuel pods.

Ships with AI attack settings will target player ships as normal and if they are unable to fire upon a player ship they will target in the following order:
The Shuttle
Turbo laser turrets
Shield generators
Fuel pods

If the Shuttle is destroyed ships with AI Shuttle setting will revert to AI Attack setting.

Note: the B Wing Squadrons will always be dagger Squadron in this mission.

Turbo Laser Turrets:

Players control the turrets but gain no xp for damage or kills with them.

Shield Generators:

The shield generators provide a regenerating shield that protects the fuel pods, only direct hits on the generators will bring down the shields and expose the fuel pods for attack by the Rebels.

Lambda Shuttle:

Omicron Pilot, Tractor Beam. Players control the Shuttle but do not gain xp for causing damage with it.

Place the shuttle as shown in the sector scan.

For higher player counts the shuttle starts with extra shields.

Mission 5

The Mugaari Campaign

Part 1

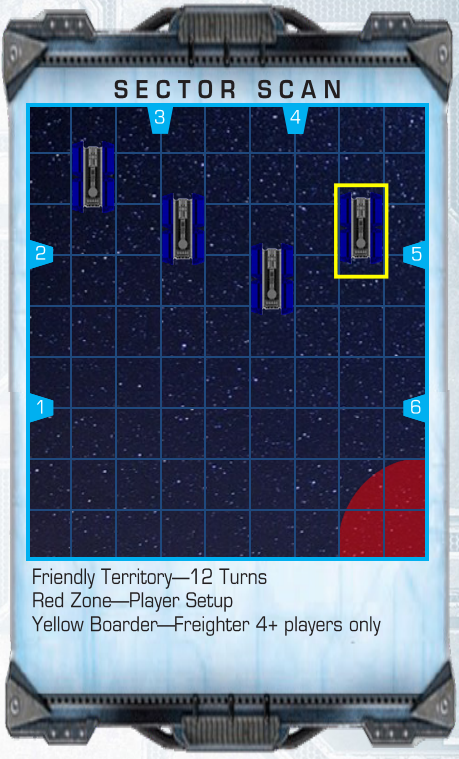

Patrol Jump Point D-34

Mission Briefing:

"Your squad will be out on patrol around Outpost D-34. Your mission is to inspect all cargo carrying vessels as they try to pass by our station. We are on the lookout for Rebel forces that are fleeing from the base on Hoth. You are to inspect all cargo carrying vessels that pass through this area. To accomplish this, scan each freighter to determine what cargo the vessel has on board. Stay alert for Rebels hidden amongst the transport convoys!

During inspections, be extra careful to avoid colliding with the freighters. Your small fighter will not survive this type of collision.

For this mission you will be flying Tie Interceptors."

Friendly Territory—12 Turns
Red Zone—Player Setup
Yellow Boarder—Freighter 4+ players only

PRIMARY	All Freighters must be inspected. The Freighter containing the Rebels must be disabled. The Shuttle must dock with the Freighter containing the Rebels. At least 1 player must survive until the end of the round that the shuttle docks with the freighter.
BONUS	The player that disables the Rebel freighter gains 2xp. If all Enemy ships are destroyed or flee all players gain 1XP.

Rebel Victory

"We have failed to apprehend the Rebel Terrorists."

Part 1

Patrol Jump Point D-34

Finding the Rebels

Put number tokens from 1 up to the number of Freighters on the board at setup. When a Freighter is scanned (by using Scan action within range 1 of the Freighter) draw a number from the bag. If it is "1", you have found the Freighter containing the Rebels.

Freighter Stats

The Freighters are a large and slow. At the beginning of the scenario all Freighters are stationary. They have 0 Agility, 8 Hull and 4 Shields. In this scenario they have PS 0 and can only move 1. They are considered Large Based Ships and Critical Hit counts as 2 hits on this vessel. You can represent these ships with any Large base ships you may have available on the table.

Freighters without Rebels:

Following the turn after it has been scanned they are clear to continue their journey and will move 1each turn towards Zone A. The Freighters have PS 0 and always move first each turn. If a freighters final position overlaps with a small or large ship, the small or large ship is immediately destroyed. Then, roll one attack die for each small ship and two dice for each large ship, and freighter suffers any Hits or Critical Hits rolled. These Freighters are considered Neutral. As such, the players do not get damage XP when hitting them.

Freighter containing Rebels:

The Freighter will not move or take actions during this mission. The ship is considered disabled if it has 1-3 Hull remaining.

Lambda Shuttle:

Has PS 3. This ship appears the turn after the Freighter containing Rebels has been disabled. The player may decide where in zone A it will be placed. The players collectively controls the ship. Once the Lambda is base to base with the Freighter containing Rebels, it can take the Docking Action. If the Lambda Shuttle survives at the end of that turn, the mission immediately ends.

YT-2400:

Has PS 2 and Heavy Laser Cannon. This ship appears the turn after the Freighter containing Rebels has been disabled.

Heavy Laser Cannon

4 Range 2-3. Immediately after rolling your attack dice, you must change all of your to results.

Our attack on this cargo area is timed to catch the Mugaari and the Rebels in their illicit weapons exchange. The Commander of the Decimator has requested that your Squadron must join in this fight. DESTROY THE DEFENCES

Mission Briefing:

"The Rebel attack on Outpost D-34 was launched from a Rebel Transport in the Bruanii Sector. Patrols have located it taking supplies into an asteroid field and we are launching an attack to destroy it.

You will fly in the first wave to clear a path through the asteroid field and the outer mine defenses, paving the way for the next wave, which will perform the assault on the Lulsas Starfighter shield.

Once you have cleared a path, return to the Suppressor for rearmament.

For this mission you will be flying TIE Bombers. Your ships have been equipped with Unguided Rockets and 2 Seismic Torpedoes (these are not to be added to your player master sheets)."

DESTROY THE TRANSPORT

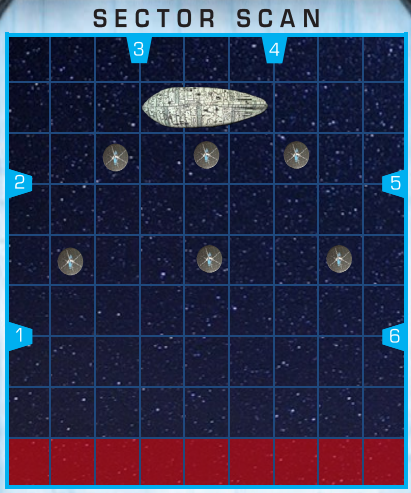

Mission Briefing:

"The Rebel Transport Lulsla is the target of this mission. While you were rearming your ships on the Suppressor, squads of Tie Interceptors have destroyed most of the transports best starfighters and weakened its outer defenses to the critical point. We are confident that the Lulsla is vulnerable for a direct attack using torpedoes and missiles.

You have been given the honor of destroying the transport, which is now completing its loading of stolen supplies. Finish it off before it escapes!

Beware of the Defense Platforms around the transport.

From the Force Awakens Core Set.

Rebel Transport

The Lulsla is a GR-75 Medium Transport with the standard stats: 4 Energy, 0 Agility, 8 Hull, 4 Shields.

It is equipped with the following:

Backup Shield Generator

At the end of each round recover 1 shield up to your shield value.

WED-15 Repair Droid

Action: Discard 1 damage card, prioritizing face-up cards.

During turns 1-4 the transport is stationary. It has the following action selection:

1. If the Transport has damage cards use the WED-15 Repair Droid.
2. Reinforce.

From turn 5 onwards the Transport will move 2↑ using the huge ship template. From this point it will always use the reinforce action.

At the end of each turn the Transport will use the backup shield generator.

If the Lulsla crosses the edge of the map during its movement phase the players may only target the aft section that turn. If the Transport is not destroyed on that turn then the mission is a failure and the Transport escapes.

If Victorious

Congratulations, each of you are awarded the Medal of Redemption.

For this mission you will be flying TIE Advanced. The ships have been equipped with tracer missiles, you will need to fire these onto a fleeing ship so that we can trace them back to their fleet."

PIRATES

YT 1300:

The freighter has taken fire, the engine is damaged and can only do a max speed of 2. Use the YT 1300 AI for movement with the exit point as target and any speed greater than 2 reduce to 2. The YT starts with 4 Shields and 6 Hull and has PS2.

When the Freighters Hull has been reduced to 3 it is disabled and will remain stationary. Ships targeting the freighter will then target players.

The turn after the freighter is disabled the Jumpmaster will appear from vector 2 and move to the freighter, when bases are touching it is considered docked.

Jumpmaster

Use a PS3 scout. It will fire upon players if able but will move towards the freighter. After it reaches the freighter it docks for 1 turn then the following turn it jumps to hyperspace.

Tracers:

Tracer Missiles roll 3 Dice and have a range of 2. You do not need a focus or Target Lock to fire them and each player carries 4 of these missiles. If the attack is successful no damage is caused to the target ship.

Mission End:

When one of the following has occurred players may jump to hyperspace or flee the board edge:

Players have attached the required number of tracers;

&

The YT 1300 escapes;

OPERATION LOCKDOWN

Black Sun Flagship:

A YV666 is being used as a flagship. It is equipped as follows:

PS2, Homing Missile, Mercenary Copilot, Gunner, Weapons Engineer, Scavenger Crane, Countermeasures.

When the Flagship has been reduced to 3 Hull or less it is disabled. When disabled it does not fire, move or take actions.

The Flagship will remain stationary until round 3 then move 1 forward each turn, if it escapes the mission is a failure. The ship will perform a focus and TL action each round and target the nearest enemy ships in arc. The Flagship starts with a Z-95 escort that will engage the players.

AI:

Ships marked with AI DS will target the Decimator or the Shuttle.

The Decimator and Shuttle do not give xp for causing damage to AI ships. Players will still get the bonuses for fleeing or destroyed ships.

The Shuttle is equipped with Anti-Pursuit Lasers

The Decimator is equipped with Anti-Pursuit Lasers, Weapons Engineer and Recon Specialist.

The Decimator and Shuttle are both player controlled.

Mission End:

When one of the following has occurred players may jump to hyperspace or flee the board edge:

Shuttle is destroyed—results in mission loss.
